[ESTABLISHED 1852].

PUBLICATION OFFICE, 28 ELM STREET (NEAR DUANE), NEW YORK.

VOL. XLI., No. 20.

NEW YORK, May 14, 1892.

WHOLE No. 1059.

LATIN-AMERICAN REPUBLICS.

Under this general title Charles H. Sergel & Co. announce a series of histories of the South American and Central American Republics, countries which are known to English and American readers only through the medium of books of travel and histories of limited periods. Closer commercial relations with these countries, their enormous resources and the many thrilling incidents in their histories make most opportune this series of books, giving a complete presentation of their past and present national life. Each volume will be written by a foremost authority, will cover the period from pre-Columbian times to 1892, and will be profusely illustrated. The first number of the series is

A HISTORY OF PERU.

By CLEMENTS R. MARKHAM, author of "War Between Chile and Peru," "Peru and India," "Cuzco and Lima," etc. 1 vol., 8vo, cloth, with twenty-five full-page illustrations and five maps, $2.50.

This is the first book in English giving a complete history of the country from the conquest to the present time; and it concludes with an exhaustive and accurate picture of the present condition of Peru and the Peruvians.

Volumes on Chile, Paraguay, Brazil, Argentine, etc., are in preparation.

MUSIC AND ITS MASTERS.

By ANTON RUBINSTEIN. 1 vol., 16mo, cloth, $1.00.

"This little book is the sensation of the hour in Germany. Great composers are expected in our times to write not only scores, but books as well. The writings of Berlioz, Schumann, Liszt, Wagner and others fill many volumes, but Rubinstein has not hitherto made any contributions to literature. But now we have a genuine book from Rubinstein's own pen, which has fallen like a bombshell into two camps at once—that of the worshippers of Handel, Haydn and Mozart on the one side, and that of the followers of Wagner, Liszt and Berlioz on the other."—The Nation.

MARTYRDOMS OF LITERATURE.

By ROBERT H. VICKERS. 1 vol., 8vo, half leather, $2.50.

"A book of no ordinary importance. The martyrdoms are not of men, but of libraries; of books and manuscripts, not of flesh and blood. What is surprising about the book is its immense range. It covers pagan no less than mediæval and modern times. It embraces not only Europe, but the countries of Spanish-America and the lands of the Orient. It offers one of the most astonishing collections of material that we have ever seen."—Chicago Evening Journal.

Ready May 25:

A MAIDEN OF MARS.

By General F. M. CLARKE. 12mo, paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.25.

An interplanetary novel of daring originality, great power and romantic beauty.

CHARLES H. SERGEL & CO., Publishers, Chicago.

NOTES IN SEASON.

LONGMANS, GREEN & Co. have just ready "The One Good Guest," a new novel by Mrs. L. B. Walford, authoress of "Mr. Smith" and "The Baby's Grandmother." It forms a volume in their new dollar series, of which Mr. Haggard's "Nada" was the first to appear.

ACKERMANN & EYLLER, Chicago, have just published a valuable and important book, entitled "Deutsch in Amerika." It is an anthology of German-American poetry, containing biographical notes of over three hundred German-American poets and an interesting historical sketch of German-American literature by Dr. Zimmermann. The work was issued under the auspices of the Germania Männerchor, of Chicago.

ROBERTS BROS. have in active preparation, to follow their beautiful library edition of Jane Austen's novels, the novels of Susan Edmonstone Ferrier, who may be said to have done for Scotland what Jane Austen and Maria Edgeworth have respectively done for England and Ireland—left portraits, painted in undying colors, of men and women that will live forever in the hearts and minds of her readers. Miss Ferrier died in 1854, and was almost the last of that literary galaxy that adorned Edinburgh society in the days of Scott, Jeffrey, Wilson and others.

D. LOTHROP CO. have nearly ready a book by the late Josiah B. Grinnell, founder of Grinnell University, entitled "Men and Events of Forty Years," a record of notable events and notable people; a delightful story of Miss Agnes Maule Machar's, "Majorie's Canadian Winter;" "Gulf and Glacier: the Percivals in Alaska," a new volume in Willis Boyd Allen's Pine Cone Series; and two capital boys' stories, "Jack Brereton's Three Months' Service" and "The Lance of Kanana." "Pansy's" new story, "John Remington, Martyr;" "Rev. Reuben Thomas' "Leaders of Thought in the Modern Church," and Edward A. Rand's "Down-East Master's First School," are announced for publication in June.

HARPER & BROS. have nearly ready for publication "Stories and Interludes," by Barry Pain, whose contributions to Punch and first volume of sketches, published in August, 1891, have made him well known as a humorist in England. His fun is said to be of a decidedly original character. Other books soon to be brought out by Harper & Bros. are "The Earl of Derby," by George Saintsbury, in The Queens Prime Ministers Series; "An Edelweiss of the Sierras," a volume of short stories by Mrs. Burton Harrison, and in the dainty Black and White Series George William Curtis' well-known address on James Russell Lowell, which was delivered at the Brooklyn Institute on Washington's Birthday.

D. APPLETON & Co. will shortly publish a new revised edition of Richard M. Johnston's "Dukesborough Tales" in their Town and Country Library. They will also issue "The Last Words of Thomas Carlyle," containing ms. writings and lectures hitherto unpublished. One of the most interesting papers is entitled "Excursion (Futile Enough) to Paris," and is a characteristic description of a journey with the Brownings and a visit to Lord Ashburton. There is also a collection of unpublished letters from Carlyle describing the preparation of his Frederick the Great, and there are several letters from Mrs. Carlyle. This will be the first of Carlyle's books issued under an American copyright. Another early publication will be "Men, Mines and Animals in South Africa," by Lord Randolph Churchill, being a graphic account of his journeys and adventures in Africa, with incidents and descriptions of life in the diamond mines and gold fields, hunting in Bechuanaland and adventures in Mashonaland, with interesting comments on the people, customs and resources of the country. It will be fully illustrated and contain a map.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p. in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no prices, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

Sizes are designated as follows: P. folio: over 30 centimeters high; (O. 4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo): 25 cm.); D. (4mo): 20 cm.); S. (6mo): 17½ cm.); T. (8mo): 15 cm.); Tl. (32mo): 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo): 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

All phases of the fascinating pursuit of china collecting are treated by Mrs. Earle, who is the author of "The Sabbath in Puritan New England." The adventures and experiences related are as amusing as the information offered is rare and valuable. The chapter headings are as follows: China hunting; Trencher treen and pewter bright; Early use and importation of china in America; Early feticle art in America; Early pottery wares; English porcelains in America; Liverpool and other printed ware; Oriental china; The cosey teapot; Punch-bowls and punches; George and Martha Washington's china; Presidential china, etc.

Fisher, G. Park, D.D. The colonial era. N. Y., C. Scribner's Sons, 1892. c. 15+348 p. D. (American history ser.) cl., $1.25.

This work is the first of a series of four, which, although distinct in authorship, and each complete in itself, are designed to furnish in a brief but readable form a connected history of the United States from the discovery of the continent to the present time. The present volume on the Colonial Period, carries the narrative down to the year 1756, the date of the declaration of war between England and France. It embraces, therefore, the beginnings of the decisive struggle of the two nations for dominion in America, or of what used to be called the "old French war." Preface. The author is Professor of Ecclesiastical History in Yale University.

The design is to commemorate the deeds of certain Burmese missionaries who have not had the full credit of their great work accorded them. The initial chapter introduces William Carey and Kristno Paul. In a description of their work is traced the practical beginning of Karen mission work. Brief biographies of the Comstocks, Abbotts and other notable missionaries outline the progress of the Burman movement. Experiences with the natives of Arakan and Burma are a feature of the work.

NOTES ON CATALOGUES.

C. N. CASPAR, 437 E. Water Street, Milwaukee, Wis., has in preparation a new and revised edition of his excellent "Law-Book Catalogue."

THE new volume of "Book Prices Current," containing the record of book sales during 1891, will be published by Elliot Stock almost immediately.

THE Library of the University of Vermont has published a bibliography of George Perkins Marsh, compiled by H. L. Koopman. This pamphlet reproduces, with corrections and extensive additions, the list published in the Library Journal for Dec. 1886. In its present form it is a reprint of six and a half pages of the catalogue of the Marsh Library now in press. This catalogue will form a royal octavo volume of over seven hundred pages, and will fully present, by authors and subjects, the contents of the thirteen thousand volumes of that remarkable collection, important alike to the philologist, the historian, the physiographer and the student of romance or Germanic literature. The volume, which will be ready in the summer, will be handsomely bound in cloth and will be sold at five dollars. Communications should be addressed to the librarian.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

MAY 14, 1892.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications. All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or our advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Books for the "Weekly Record," as well as all information intended for that department, must reach us by Tuesday morning of each week.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues issued will also be mentioned when forwarded.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the WEEKLY solely for their information. The next important reason is that the Record of New Publications of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY forms the basis of "The American Catalogue" and so the basis of all trade bibliography in the United States.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

SUMMER TRADE.

THE hot season is near at hand and plans for summering are already under debate. In our endeavor to accommodate the WEEKLY to the changing opportunities of the bookseller throughout the year, we venture to offer at this time a few hints for making the most of summer trade.

The trade in novels and similar light reading of course takes the lead during the vacation season, and should be liberally provided for. While the trade in these lines in recent years has been much cut up by certain cheap stuff, there is still much left that will pay to handle.

The people who travel are apt to be the more wealthy, or, at least, the class of people trained to enjoy "a book that is a book" in form as well as in contents, and who are ready to pay a reasonable sum for that enjoyment. The bookseller therefore has a wide range that the cheaper libraries do not cover. He should be thoroughly posted especially as to American novels in cloth and paper bindings now so liberally provided by most of our publishing houses. Then there are guide-books (of which the more important will be found in the list of "Books for Summer Travellers," printed in the WEEKLY during the summer months), as well as books of home and foreign travel, always in demand by tourists. In such a range as these, which should presently be brought prominently forward on the counters, there is a good deal of opportunity for sales.

One of the most important aids in pushing business during this season is the preparation of a tempting catalogue suitable for shore and mountain reading. Those who lack the time or inclination to prepare such a list will find our "Summer Reading" useful and profitable. It is prepared for the very purpose of bringing the attention of summer visitors to the classes of books alluded to above, and the delight of them. It has for many years been found serviceable by two classes of the trade. First, city dealers with regular customers, whom they wish to follow "with the compliments of the season" into their summer haunts, and thus retain their trade, filling their orders by mail. Multitudes go far out of sight of any bookstore, but can be cultivated by the aid of Uncle Sam. Secondly, booksellers at or near summer resorts, who desire to pleasantly acquaint summer visitors that there is a bookstore near at hand from which they can be supplied. With such an aid as our "Summer Reading" catalogue, which this year has a new and attractive cover, and which will contain timely reading and a number of attractive illustrations, old customers may be retained and much new trade created.

TWO LIVES FOR A BOOK.

THERE is in Chicago a young man named F. J. Schulte who is coming to the front as a publisher. He has struck rather a new idea in the publishing business, and promises to make a handsome revenue out of it. He does not care so much for new books as he does for books by famous authors published some years ago, the sale of which has comparatively stopped. He either buys the plates of a book outright, or makes some arrangement by which an edition is made for him with his imprint. Then, at a cheaper price than the original rate, he seeks a market for the book by popular methods and among a public which has been deprived of the book by its original price. For instance, this enterprising young Chicagoan has either secured or is still negotiating for Mr. Howells' story of "A Modern Instance." This story has had a sale, probably, of 8000 copies, and although the book still sells the demand is only moderate. When Schulte gets this book, he issues it tastefully, yet at a cheaper price, finds a new public for it, and practically revives the book. All concerned profit by it — the author, the original publisher and Schulte.

The idea is a good one, and there is room in the publishing world for just such a man as Schulte. There is many a book on the list of our larger publishing houses which is considered as having seen its day, which, if brought to life and before a new public, could have a far larger sale than it enjoyed upon its original publication. The simple fact is that the larger publishing houses do not get out of a book all there is in it by any means. Almost any author will bear me out in this. The big book-houses are conservative. Each house has its own peculiar method of publishing a book and of advertising it. Year after year the plan is the same, the advertisements are seen in certain regular channels, and consequently the same audience is reached. I could to-day pick out a score of books upon the lists of the larger book-houses which, if new life were put into them, new methods adopted and a new audience sought, have in them the possibilities of larger sales than they ever had. These houses cannot very well depart from their time-honored customs, or, at least, they think they cannot. But they are not always unwilling to have others do for them what themselves they feel they cannot do. Dignity is a splendid thing in literature, but it is awfully costly to some of our authors. They do not know how costly it is, in fact.

There is a reading public in this vast country which the larger publishing houses never reach. This class is intelligent; they will buy books, but they have not access to the mediums through which books are usually announced, nor have they the means to pay one or two dollars for a novel. This class respect the copyright law as much as do the literary people in the city. They will discriminate between an authorized edition and a pirated reprint at any time. But such houses at the Harpers, Scribners, Appletons or any of the great New York or Boston houses are not in touch with this class. They do not know how to reach it. The mere announcement of a book in a literary paper, or its review in some prominent literary medium, they do not see. It requires a personal canvass, the use of circulars, and then they buy, and buy both intelligently and readily. Such a man as Schulte knows how to reach this class, and it is a vast one, and as profitable as it is large. The fact is that if some of our foremost authors were keen enough there is no reason in the world why their books should not live two lives. Let them publish their books first through the higher publishing house, but when that medium has gotten what it can out of the book in the way of sale, there is still in that volume the possibility of a greater sale through the medium of a second publisher, who can unite with the larger house and secure benefit to all concerned.

"A BONNIE BOOKE."

ONE of the most remarkable instances of what bibliomania leads to yet recorded in this country was the sale at C. F. Libbie & Co.'s auction-rooms in Boston of a little book, that ordinarily would fetch about twenty-five cents, for eighteen hundred and fifty dollars. The title of the book is "Tamerlane and Other Poems, by A Bostonian [Edgar A. Poe];" Imprint: "Boston, Calvin F. S. Thomas, Printer, 1827." The book is a sixteenmo, of only 40 pages, in the original paper covers ( $4\frac{1}{4} \times 6\frac{3}{8}$  inches). The following is the collation:

"Young heads are giddy, and young hearts are warm,
And make mistakes for manhood to reform.—Couper."

Some time in the sixties the British Museum acquired a copy of this little book, report says, in a lot of old pamphlets. It was without any cover and was the first copy ever known. Since then collectors have searched in vain for it. It is evident that but few copies were printed, and still fewer got into circulation. The copy sold at Libbie's was purchased about ten years ago at a Cornhill bookstore for a very small sum.

The book was sold on April 28, before a large audience, the salesroom being filled almost to overflowing. Representatives from large houses in New York and Boston were present, and the bidding was spirited. The book was finally knocked down to Otto Fleischner, representing Dodd, Mead & Co. The excitement during the bidding was intense, and when the book was finally disposed of the crowd enthusiastically cheered the successful bidder.

READING IN THE UNITED STATES AND EUROPE.

THE HON. CARROLL D. WRIGHT, Commissioner of Labor, in his report to the President, makes reference to the reading propensities of 5284 families (representing 27,577 persons) distributed through the cotton and glass producing States of the United States, Belgium, France, Germany, Great Britain and Switzerland, which constitute interesting points of comparison. The average cost of books and newspapers for families engaged in the cotton industry in the United States was $5.35; in France, $3.79; in Germany, $1.48, and in Great Britain, $5.86. For families engaged in the woollen industry: In the United States, $7.66; in France, $3.33; in Germany, $1.37, and in Great Britain, $6.47. For the families engaged in the glass industry: In the United States, $9.14; in Belgium, $3.82, and in Great Britain, $3.44.

THE AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY.

ANOTHER year of successful work has just closed for the American Tract Society, the sixty-seventh annual meeting of which was held on the 11th inst., in the lecture-room of the Madison Square Presbyterian Church, New York City. The report of the publishing department, made by the Rev. Dr. W. W. Rand, showed that 100 new publications had been added to the society's catalogue. These were printed in English, German, Spanish, Italian, Swedish, Portuguese, Polish, Bohemian, Dakota, Zulu, Benga and Hebrew. The whole number of publications issued since the founding of the society is 7699; $2918.66 had been given in electrotypes and $2223.51 in publications to various foreign missions. Literature to the value of $25,554.52 had been circulated gratuitously. The 174 colporteurs of the society had visited 126,112 families, held 4366 public meetings and circulated 94,414 volumes. The benevolent department received $67,237.63 in legacies and gifts, and from sales and other sources enough to make a total of $139,055.86. The total receipts of the business department, as reported by the Rev. Dr. George L. Shearer, were $313,094.69, and the balance on hand is $6849.06.

John J. McCook was appointed to succeed the late Roswell Smith as a member of the finance committee. The following were elected members of the three divisions of the executive committee: Publishing, the Rev. Drs. Talbot W. Chambers, Alexander Mackay-Smith; distributing, Titus B. Meigs and William A. Sloan; finance, Peter Donald and William M. Isaacs. The active corresponding secretary will be the Rev. Dr. William A. Rice.

BOOKSELLERS' ASSOCIATIONS.

MINNEAPOLIS BOOKSELLERS AND NEWS-DEALERS' ASSOCIATION.

[Official.]

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., May 6, 1892.

To the Book Trade of the Northwest:

THE meeting of the Booksellers and Newsdealers' Association held on May 3 was, on account of bad weather, adjourned to meet again on Friday evening, May 20, at 8 o'clock, in the rooms of the Jobbers' Association, 110 Hennepin Ave. The business on hand is a letter from the President of the Northwestern Booksellers and Newsdealers' Association; letters from leading publishers of periodicals and from news companies on the cutting of retail prices of magazines; communications from other associations; the school-book question, and much other valuable and important business, not forgetting the annual meeting of the Northwestern Booksellers and Newsdealers' Association, to be held in this city July 12 to 15.

The Secretary will send copy of constitution and by-laws and circular on receipt of two-cent stamp.

Yours fraternally,

CHAS. D. RAYMER, Secretary.

NORTHWESTERN BOOKSELLERS AND NEWS-DEALERS' ASSOCIATION.

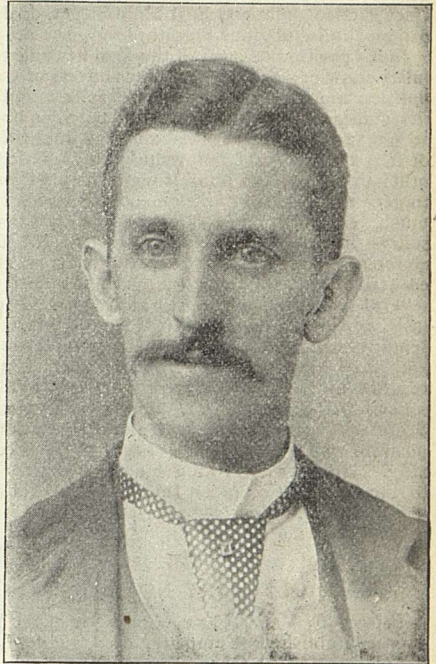

THE annual convention to be held in Minneapolis July 12 to 16, promises to be an event of unusual interest. The programme includes a complimentary dinner to the members of the association and their friends tendered by the daily press of Minneapolis; drives to all the parks, lakes and other places of interest, and a visit to the theatre. It is proposed that the commercial travellers of the book and stationery trades plan to be in Minneapolis at the time of the convention and to stop at the West Hotel, so that the parlors of that noted hostelry may be turned into a book fair. It is also expected that arrangements will be completed with several prominent members of the trade to read papers of interest to those assembled. Thus far between two and three hundred dealers have signified their intention of being present.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

THE new novelette by Henry B. Fuller, of Chicago, whose "Chevalier of Pensieri-Vani" has attracted so much attention among literary people, will begin in the June Century. The scene of Mr. Fuller's first book was laid in Italy. In "The Chatelaine of La Trinité" he finds a setting for his story among the mountains of Switzerland, his chief characters being the lady of the castle of La Trinité and a charming American young person, Miss Aurelia West by name.

H. M. STARKE.

H. M. STARKE, the efficient secretary of the Virginia Booksellers' Association, which largely owes its existence to his work for the last four years, has shown in his earnest and enthusiastic example how much can be accomplished in the line of organization by unremitting and well-directed effort.

H. M. STARKE,

Secretary of the Virginia Booksellers' Association.

His family has for over half a century been well known among the booksellers of Richmond, Va., where the firm's business has always been conducted. Thomas J. Starke, the father of the subject of this sketch, and the founder of the firm, started in that city forty years ago in the book-selling business, which he conducted under his own name until the burning of Richmond, April 3, 1865, when his stock was destroyed. He then formed a partnership with Josiah Ryland, and the business was carried on under the firm-name of Starke & Ryland until 1877, when Mr. Starke sold out his interest. In 1880, with two of his sons, E. D. and H. M., he again engaged in the book business under the name of Thos. J. Starke & Sons, which was continued until Mr. Starke, Sr.'s death in February, 1889. In the fall of the same year H. M. Starke bought out the business, which he has since conducted under the name of H. M. Starke & Co.

The present head of the firm, H. M. Starke, was born in Richmond on March 28, 1860. His education was confined to the public schools of his native city, but he early showed a strong aptitude for books, and all his spare hours were passed in his father's bookstore. He left school at the age of sixteen and entered the employ of the Richmond Depository of the American Tract Society, where he remained for two years. In 1878 the manager of the Depository, Thomas D. Walford, opened a book and stationery store in Richmond. Young Starke accompanied him in his venture and remained in his employ until January, 1880. In February of the same year he entered into partnership with his father and elder brother, under the firm-name of T. J. Starke & Sons, opening a bookstore at 405 E. Broad St. In 1889, after the death of his father, Mr. Starke bought out the business, which he has since carried on at 909 East Main Street, dealing principally in religious literature.

In his position as head of the firm he came to a fuller knowledge of the disastrous effects of competition amongst rival retail booksellers and of the constant discord which existed between booksellers and publishers. Realizing the importance of a strong spirit of fellowship in this as in all other trades, he set himself vigorously to work to reconcile the warring elements, believing that much friction could be done away with if booksellers and publishers could be brought into closer relationship with one another. He worked earnestly and energetically for this object for several years, and on August 28, 1890, succeeded in assembling a meeting at Richmond of representatives from nearly all the larger bookselling and publishing firms of Virginia. This meeting resulted in the organization of the Virginia Booksellers' Association. Mr. Starke was elected Secretary and Treasurer of the Association, a position which he continues to fill most acceptably. He is now devoting his time and energy to the organization of an Interstate Association, and working in other ways for the further betterment of the trade.

OBITUARY NOTES.

EMORY E. VAN HORNE, a member of the Van Horne Publishing Company, died suddenly at his office, No. 61 Duane Street, New York, on May 5 from hemorrhage of the lungs. He moved to this city last fall from Elmira, N. Y., where he had been engaged in the hardware business, and started the Van Horne Publishing Company with his brother, J. J. Van Horne. He leaves a widow and one young child.

PIERRE MARCELIN LORTIC, the last of the classical artists in bookbinding, died in Paris May 9, in his seventy-second year. He was the rival of Trautz-Bauzonnet, and divided with him the enthusiastic admiration of the great book-collectors. Since the artisans of the Renaissance who worked for Grolier, not one had the gift of fitting morocco covers to books as if they were inseparable until Lortic came. Most of his work was done for Ambroise Firmin-Didot. He had retired from business several years ago, after receiving the appointment of Knight of the Legion of Honor.

CHARLES EDWARD FLOWER, the Shakespeare scholar of Stratford-upon-Avon, is dead. He was a native of Shakespeare's birthplace, and used his large wealth freely for the advancement of his town. He founded the Memorial Theatre and made numerous generous gifts to its library. His most important literary work was the editing of the Memorial Edition of Shakespeare, and he made practical and successful acting versions of "Two Gentlemen of Verona," "All's Well That Ends Well," "Comedy of Errors" and

"First Part of King Henry VI." One of his last labors was the restoration of the Guild Hall and Grammar School of Stratford.

GEORGE HENRY MOORE, Superintendent of the Lenox Library, died at his residence, 57 E. Seventy-eighth Street, New York, on May 5. Mr. Moore was born in Concord, N. H., April 20, 1823. His father was Dr. Jacob Bailey Moore, and Henry Eaton Moore, the composer and author, was his brother. After graduating from the University of New York in 1845 he became librarian of the New York Historical Society, and in October 1872 was elected Superintendent of the Lenox Library. He was well known as a bibliographer and through his writings, and was a member of numerous historical and antiquarian societies. Among his best-known works are "The Treason of Charles Lee," "Employment of Negroes in the Revolutionary Army," "Notes on the History of Slavery in Massachusetts," "History of the Jurisprudence of New York," "Early History of Columbia College" and "Washington as an Angler." He leaves a wife, a married daughter and a grown son.

HENRY F. RANDOLPH, son of Anson D. F. Randolph, died on the morning of the 10th inst., at the age of thirty-six. Mr. Randolph was born in New York in 1856. After graduation from Amherst College in the Class of 1877 he entered the Columbia Law School, and after admission to the bar practised in the office of Tyler & Tremain. About seven years ago he became a manuscript reader for A. D. F. Randolph & Co., and in the course of time he developed as a promising literary man. He wrote for journals and magazines and also for the Churchman. His last article in the Atlantic on "Dean Swift," appeared four months ago. His special study was Shakespeariana. He compiled books for A. D. F. Randolph & Co. Among them were "Fifty Years' of English Song," "Latter Day Ballads," etc. Mr. Randolph's work was full of promise, and as he was ambitious, and methodical in his habits, his position as a leading man in American literature seemed reasonably assured.

BUSINESS NOTES.

CHICAGO.—Ackermann & Eyler, booksellers and publishers, a few days before they removed to 86 Fifth Avenue, found their old store at 45 La Salle St., broken into by burglars. The intruders were evidently persons of small literary culture, as they left the valuable stock intact, but decamped with what cash and stamps they could find.

CLARE, MICH.—Wm. H. Elden, bookseller, has changed style of firm to Elden & Halbrook.

KANSAS CITY, MO.—Joseph A. Mack & Co. have just opened a handsome book and stationery store at 1015 Walnut Street.

LAWRENCE, KAN.—The Lawrence Book Company has been incorporated. The incorporators are: Geo. Y. Johnson, W. F. Marsh, H. E. Benson, Geo. E. Little and Barclay Thomas.

MONTEVIDEO, MINN.—A. L. Eldred, bookseller, has been succeeded by John Austin.

NEW YORK CITY.—The Christian Literature Company has removed to Clinton Hall, Astor Place.

NEW YORK CITY.—Frederick A. Stokes Company have removed to 27 and 29 West Twenty-third Street.

NEW YORK CITY.—Fords, Howard & Hulbert have removed from No. 30 Lafayette Place to No. 47 East Tenth Street, five doors west of Broadway.

NEW YORK CITY.—E. W. Johnson, bookseller, has removed to 649 Sixth Avenue. The site of his old store, the "Armory Building," 1336 Broadway, is to be occupied by the Herald.

REDLANDS, CAL.—Doran Brothers, booksellers and stationers, have been succeeded by C. C. Beatty.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—E. Darrow & Co. have sold their stock to William J. Wilcox, who is located at 12 State Street. Mr. Darrow will remain with Mr. Wilcox for the present.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.—Osborn & Alexander, 401 Market Street, dealers in hardware and machinery, have established a book department under the style of "The Technical and Scientific Book Concern," in which they carry standard books essential in every department of industrial science, mechanics and useful arts, engineering, manufactures, electricity, building, the mechanical trades, etc.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.—The Eclipse Publishing Company has been dissolved.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.—The firm of G. & C. Merriam & Co. has been incorporated under the name of the G. & C. Merriam Co.

WARRENSBURG, MO.—F. G. Lunbeck, bookseller and stationer, has been succeeded by Warren Stone.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

WORTHINGTON Co. have added to their Fair Library "Love Knows No Law," by Léon de Tinseau, translated by Camden Curwen.

H. L. KILNER & Co. have in preparation another volume of Father Coloma's short stories, translated from the Spanish by E. M. Brookes.

THE fifth annual convention of the National Association of German-American Journalists and Authors will take place on May 19 and 20 in New York.

BOUSSOD, VALADON & Co. have made arrangements with the Haskell Publishing Co., of Boston, to handle the édition de luxe of Goupil's Paris "Salon" for 1892, 1893 and 1894.

CHARLES E. BROWN, Room 425, Exchange Building, State Street, Boston, has in preparation a list of some twenty board juveniles which will be ready early in the summer.

CHARLES E. MERRILL & Co. will publish on the 16th inst., "A Literary Guide for Home and School," prepared by Miss M. A. Caller, Teacher of Classics in the Alabama Female Seminary.

"THE CATHERWOOD MYSTERY," by Albert P. Southwick, will be No. 10 of the Broadway Series, instead of No. 9, as previously advertised, and will be issued by John A. Taylor & Co. in May.

THE Grolier Club's exhibition of missals, books of hours and other painted and illuminated manuscripts was opened on the afternoon of the 6th inst., and will remain on view daily until May 20, from 2 to 6 P.M. About 180 volumes, many of them of great value, are displayed. A catalogue, beautifully illustrated and descriptive of the missals, etc., is being printed for the members.

ROBERTS BROTHERS will soon bring out a new work by William R. Alger, with the title "The Sources of Consolation in Human Life." Among the reasons assigned by him for "coming forward among the crowd of claimants for attention who now swarm in every avenue of literary publicity," he cites his "personal experience of trial and sorrow, which has been deep and varied," as he thinks, "in a degree known by few."

HOVENDEN Co., successors to the International Book Co., 17 Waverley Place, N. Y., have just issued "The O'Connors of Ballinahinch," a new novel by "The Duchess," as the first publication in their Metropolitan Series of new copyrighted novels. They have also brought out "Slaves of the Sawdust," by Amye Read, a strong story, in which the author of "Ruby" continues her arraignment of the cruel training undergone by circus performers.

LAIRD & LEE'S $1000 prize-novel competition, opened last fall, was closed on March 31, 1892, and the prize has been awarded to a novel of New York society life, entitled "Cortlandt Laster, Capitalist," by an author who writes under the pen-name of "Harley Deene." The book will be issued early in June. A second $1000 prize competition has already been announced, which will close on September 30, 1892. The competitions are open only to American authors, and all translations and adaptations are absolutely excluded.

DE WOLFE, FISKE & Co. have brought out a new line of juvenile "color books" ranging in price from two dollars to fifty cents. They are printed on calendered paper, fully illustrated with half-tone and wood-engravings and full-page colored plates. "In the Chimney Corner," "Slumberland," "Jack in the Box," "Merry Times," "Wee Lassies" and "Peep o' Day," are some of the titles. Two of the latest juveniles issued by De Wolfe, Fiske & Co. are "A Run Round the World," the story of a trip from New York to India and back, and "Uncle Sam's Story World," a collection of short stories, in companion form to the preceding.

THE first edition of 5000 copies of "A Man and a Woman," Stanley Waterloo's novel, was exhausted in less than three weeks, and the second (of 10,000 copies) has just come from the presses of F. J. Schulte & Co., Chicago. "Stanley Waterloo" is not a pseudonym, as has been erroneously supposed, but the real name of a well-known and hard-working newspaper man of the modern school, who would perhaps never have thought of turning his attention to fiction but for Mr. Schulte's earnest solicitation. Mr. Waterloo has severed his connection with newspaper work, and will hereafter, like Opie Read, confine himself almost exclusively to book-making.

GINN & Co. have in press a volume, to be entitled "The Art of Poetry: the poetical treatises of Horace, Vida and Boileau, with the translations by Howes, Pitt and Soame," edited by Prof. Albert S. Cook, of Yale. This volume is intended to meet the wants of three classes of teachers and students: those of Latin, French, and English or comparative literature. To the first class it will furnish Latin metrical criticisms, ancient and modern, on poetry; to the second, a classic which every highly-educated Frenchman is supposed to know by heart, and to the third an authoritative statement, by poets themselves, of the canons recognized in the Augustan ages of Latin, Italian and French literature, and, to a very considerable extent, in the so-called Augustan period of English literature, the reign of Queen Anne. Those who read Latin and French will here find the originals, while those who read only English are provided with standard translations. A full index, containing lists of the Homeric and Virgilian passages illustrated and a topical analysis of the threefold work, will enhance its value for the class-room and the private student.

HENRY BALDWIN, of 136 South Maryland Av., Atlantic City, N. J., who was elected Custodian of American History at the Chicago Convention of Patriotic Organizations of America, in February, 1891, has issued a circular letter asking for assistance in his work of collecting Americana for the proposed "National Library Americana" to be ultimately located in Washington. The special work entrusted to Mr. Baldwin was "to collect facts, names, dates, statistics and other matters as may relate to the history, geography and progress of the country and to verify the same." No salary attaches to the office, and Mr. Baldwin desires assistance in money as well as in material. He especially asks for donations of: Old letters which refer to incidents in American history, American progress or American life; old pamphlets having a similar reference; old political papers of every kind, hand-bills, tickets, speeches and other documents; old periodicals; government documents; reports of law cases; ecclesiastical and other religious reports; old town, city, State or other directories; in fact, everything in print or MSS. relating to the history, geography, business, social life or in any way illustrating the past or the present of any part of the American continent or of the islands that are properly a part of it.

The ninth volume of the new edition of "Chambers' Encyclopedia" is in a forward state, and will be published by the J. B. Lippincott Company in June. Another volume will complete this excellent work of reference. The following are some of the principal articles and authors in the new volume: "Rousseau," Rev. H. G. Graham; "Runes," Canon Isaac Taylor; "Russia," "St. Petersburg," "Siberia," Prince Krapotkin; "Salmon," Archibald Young; "Salvation Army," Bramwell Booth; "Samoa," C. P. Lucas; "George Sand," Mr. G. Saintsbury; "Scandinavian Mythology," Prof. Rasmus Andersen; "Schopenhauer," Prof. W. Caldwell; "Schleiermacher," Dr. Otto Pfeleider; "Spectrum," Prof. Knott; "Scotland," history, Prof. Grub; "Scottish Language," Dr. J. A. H. Murray; "Scottish Literature," Hume Brown; "Sir Walter Scott," Andrew Lang; "Seal," "Sole," J. T. Cunningham; "Secularism," Mr. G. J. Holyoake; "Shakespeare" and "Shelley," Prof. Dowden; "Sheep," James MacDonald; Generals "Sheridan" and "Sherman," General Grant Wilson; "Shipbuilding," David Pollock; "Short-hand," Isaac Pitman; "Siam," J. S. Black; "Slang," C. G. Leland; "Socialism," T. Kirkup; "Herbert Spencer," Prof. Sorby; "Sphinx," Stanley Lane-Poole; "H. M. Stanley," J. S. Keltie; "Dean Stanley," Prof. Story; "State Religion," Canon Curteis; "Steam" and "Steam-Engine," Prof. A. B. W. Kennedy; "Sterne," Traill; "Strawberry," Blackmore.

 This work is peculiarly important and timely, as the Jewish question is being thoroughly discussed in the "Forum" and other periodicals. The ultimate results of the present persecutions and exodus in Russia will materially affect the populations of the United States and England. Read this book and learn the physical and racial exemptions to disease the Jewish race enjoys, and why that in the vital scale they are superior to other races.

The American Catalogue

1884-1890.

The new volume of the American Catalogue covers the period July 1, 1884, to June 30, 1890. It is in two parts, of which the first contains the author-and-title alphabet, and the second the subject alphabet, List of Government Publications, Publications of Societies, Books in Series, etc.

Price, $12.50 in sheets; and $15 in half morocco binding.

The edition is 1250 copies only, and there will be no re-issue.

... "There is scarcely a bookseller in the country who would hesitate a moment to expend twenty-five dollars in advertising his stock; ought he to hesitate a moment about an expenditure that would enable him to sell hundreds of dollars' worth of books in a year? Such an investment would also purchase for him a reputation among his customers for intelligence and trade knowledge that would pay him five times over."—A. D. F. RANDOLPH.

By STANLEY WATERLOO.

Large 12mo, cloth extra, gilt top, $1.25; paper covers, 50 cents.

"This is an analytical story of surpassing power and interest. It comes as near being a true story as can be told by any reporter of human actions. In every line of the book truth is written so fearlessly and so simply that the wonder is that such feat has ever been thought difficult. And yet how hard it is no one knows until absolute trial is made. . . . 'A Man and a Woman' is not a book written for the 'young person,' and yet it is not offensive in any sense, and there is certainly nothing in it to excite the passions or deprave the mind. . . . Added to the interest of the tale is the clear-cut, lucid and finished style in which it is written. It is a very choice piece of English and promises to be the novel of the season."—Chicago Herald.

A CARD TO THE TRADE.

In answer to the various rumors that the copyright of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" has expired, we beg to submit, in addition to what was stated in the "Publishers' Weekly" of April 16, the opinion of the following eminent counsel: Hon. Edmund H. Bennett, Dean of the Law School of the Boston University, and Charles C. Beaman, Esq., of the law firm of Evarts, Choate & Beaman, New York, and to repeat what we have before stated, that it is our purpose to pursue to the extent of the law any person who shall "print, publish, sell or expose for sale" any unauthorized edition of said book during the existence of the copyright, in behalf of Mrs. Stowe, whose chief income is derived from "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

BOSTON, May 5, 1892.

MESSRS. HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & CO.

GENTLEMEN: I have investigated the facts in regard to the securing and the renewal of the copyright on the book entitled "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and have examined the Statutes and decisions of the United States Courts bearing upon those facts, and I am of the opinion that you would be able to obtain an injunction against any person who shall, without your consent, print, publish, sell or expose for sale any copy of said book within the term limited by law for the duration of said copyright.

EDMUND H. BENNETT.
